Wilkinson Admonishes Students to Remember Christ

As you depart for your homes to spend the yuletide holidays with your families and loved ones, I should like to send the best wishes and choicest blessings of the administration and the entire faculty.

We have not been only the largest student body in the great school, but also an outstanding one in spirit, athletics, activities, and attitude. We honor and thank you for your accomplishments this quarter. It has been a pleasure to work with you as we have moved together in additional knowledge, greater numbers, expanded former traditions, and higher honors.

As you travel to your homes in many states and many leave with you two admonitions:

Be sure to put Christ into Christmas. Of course, we always remember Him, but especially at this time of the year.

Keep His spirit with us all the gifts that He gave—love, help, courage, devotion.

And, please be careful in your driving. Too often in the campus has been saddened by the terrible deaths and of students hurrying to their homes. Do not drive fast; do not try to drive all night; do not speed; observe regulations and road conditions.

Look forward to seeing you at the opening of the winter term, Jan. 5, and wish you heartily a MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR.

Earnestly and sincerely yours,
Ernest L. Wilkinson,
President

Five Friends, Dead...

Car Accidents Can Happen—to You

This is the story of one small piece of a jigsaw puzzle—a puzzle that doesn't fit. It pieces each tell a separate tale of sorrow and pain. When interlocked, these separate pieces become a form of carnage and beautiful girls, but rather a cancerous enlargement of the smaller pieces. It tells the story of the shocking death rate of our highways. Here, then, is a story of one of the places where death everywhere.

Death was omnipresent. It had crept in through the walls and was felt by more people than anything I have ever experienced.

When I opened the door of the school I heard the sons and noised groups of silent thoughtful boys and red faced girls.

In the days of the Bible had been read, even the clover seemed afraid to make a sound,

As a journalist I won't forget the impassioned editorials that appeared locally crusading for safety and pleading with mankind to stop needlessly killing itself.

The editorials caught fire, but a flash fire that did no good, but to cause the immediate element of the accident to be repaired and to start gossip running again.

Committees were formed and for a month the accident level dropped and people observed the common sense dictations of safety.

Town Forges

But now even a year later my town has forgotten the fervor that it once had, and has lost the momentum again, pushing the climbing death rate. Stop. Think. Is this the story of your town too?

For a week the events of the night destroyed our will to work, to live, to run, to jump, to play, to pick up your daily newspaper and saw the headline "Five Killed in Poratello Accident."

You thought about it for the time being, but returned to the sports section and funnies.

Five Friends Lost

I've never forgotten that night when five of my friends drowned when the car they were riding in plunged into the Provo River through an unlighted, unpainted guardrail that could be easily lifted from its dirt base.

Nor have I forgotten the hundreds of people standing in line to see the remains of five of the rest letters of their school.

How Much Safety?

Americans all want safety, but how badly? Are we all like the

Carols, Dance Slated During Yule Vacation

Caroling, dancing and ice skating are just a few of the activities being planned for students who will remain on campus over the Christmas holidays.

A caroling party will be held Dec. 26 at the Gymnasium at 7 p.m. in front of the Sun Building. They will sing carols to the people of Provo and then return to campus for refreshments and dancing.

An "Ice-Dance" will be held on Jan. 3 and students will go ice skating in Vivian Park on Dec. 27. In addition, a free movie will be shown on Dec. 26.

Santa Claus will be held on Dec. 26 and Jan. 4 at 8:30 p.m. in the Multi-purpose room of the Smith Family Living Center. A program at the State Mental Hospital will be held there Sunday evening.

All these activities are being planned for the Christmas holidays by the Public Relations Committee under the direction of Garry Clay, chairman.

In addition to these activities, there will be three home basketball games held this weekend. The Cougars will meet Santa Clara on Friday and Saturday and the Aggies on Monday night in the Fieldhouse.

Most campus facilities will be open during the holidays. The Fieldhouse will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day including Saturday. The Gymnasium will be closed on Christmas and New Year's and will close at 1 p.m. on Dec. 24 and Dec. 31.

All campus libraries will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily except Saturdays and holidays.

Heritage Hall Fire Turns Lights Out

The power went out in three buildings and Maeser Hall (Bldg. 1) on Tuesday afternoon when an electrical failure set a basement transformer on fire.

The Provo Fire Department responded and the transformer was quickly burned and that smoke filled all three floors of the building. There was no estimate as to the extent of damage caused by the fire and smoke.

The department used carbon dioxide to put out the transformer fire, then used suction equipment to clear the smoke out of Maeser Hall. They were called at 5:37 p.m. and spent an hour and fifteen minutes at the scene.

Payroll Checks Readied For BYU Students

Payroll checks will be ready to pick up on Friday if time permits or turned in before noon Monday.

According to the Treasurer's Office, these checks cover the period from Dec. 1 to Dec. 15.

HOLIDAY CHURCH SERVICES
Church services will be held in most Brigham Young University wards during the Christmas vacation, but some wards will conduct services, according to Dr. Barnard F. Mathews, the BYU Stake president.

Fred Schwindman, stake clerk, said that there will probably be only one meeting in each building where several wards

Lost Pride?

Dear Editor:

Here at BYU we pride ourselves in being a little more mature and morally responsible than most young people our age. I think it is the maturity that makes us different. In many activities we are able to take responsibility and make plans and carry them through with a minimum of supervision. We are able to trust because we are trusted; trusted to act as adults.

However, lately there have been a small minority of us who think it would be fun to break that trust. I am sure that you are aware that I am referring to the recent defacement and damage done to the Kirt G. Mason statue.

Colleges have long been famous for humorous, clever pranks. We enjoy something that is truly funny as much as anyone. But nothing is more humorous than causing damage or defacement. Especially when it also defaces the memory of a dedicated man whose only goal in life was that of service.

I'm sure none of us, even real enemies of the church, would think of burning initials into the statue of Joseph Smith on Temple Square.

I also realize that most of us here are disappointed in the conduct of these few. Let's make them understand that we don't think that it's funny to do such things.

Taking Stand

Dear Editor:

I feel that it is time for someone to stand on the issue of segregation vs. integration.

Integration has got its good points and it also has weak points. The good points are that it helps cut down expenses of a dual system! Schools, church facilities, etc. It also tends to strengthen us in the eyes of the world so that we might be asked to teach another quarter (for if they are going to find fault with us it won't make much difference where they find it) just so we find out.

The weak points are that most people who strongly advocate integration have never lived in the south, thus do not know the conditions. They point to the poverty of the Negro but they fail to point to the poverty of his white neighbor down the road.

They wish to integrate their children for two reasons: 1. To help the Negro and teach them that they are all equal, but when the time comes for marriage they will have to tell them that they are not equal, or better, so they are not to marry.

The final point I wish to bring out is that there has been much said about little Rock but little about the other schools. What have been done as the law directed, is this due to Yellow Journalism?

Look close, Editor, before you comment yours.

George Hallcock

Protection

Dear Editor:

I know you get a lot of complaints that don't mean much but I feel that mine is very important. I am a college student about the lack of protective measures taken to insure the safety of the young ladies of this University from being molested.

To me this University has a large problem and truthfully I am frightened to death. I've read about these things happening in the papers, but now that we can't be ignored, as something that happens to another girl, the cause they are happening outside my front door.

For an example: Last night after coming home from MIA I heard a scream. I thought it was another girl being molested so I went to the dormitory alone at night. This University is a poor target for this type of incidence.

Maybe you think it is hard to believe a young lady has to sometimes travel alone at night. But it is true. There are many other young ladies to believe that there are twisted minds who would like to deprive a young lady of one of the most precious gifts God gave to women.

What is being done? I've noticed that we spend so much time and money on construction, lighting, water, water sprinklers in, but what about the faulty lighting, the lack of adequate patrols, and the poor investigation. The Negro has even been accused except by the neighborhood boys, to find the culprit in our neighborhood. If one girl could be spared the agonizing terror then wouldn't it be worth one less sprinkling system?

If the board of directors could hear the cries of an innocent young girl who was innocent or the accused screamer of a neighbor boy which you mistook for a game, would they then protect us?

Fees, Fees . . .

Dear Editor:

I certainly agree with the "Veteran Woes" article in Wednesday's "Safety Valve." I have found that it is time I turn around. There is something holding me back from getting out and putting my hand for more fees and dues. In addition to all of those mentioned by Fran Shirley, we have found many fees to do laundry and for six meals a week in Cannon Center for food I never see since I go home on weekend ends.

Recently I learned that our Student Housing will refund the ten dollars housing deposit is at the end of spring quarter. The only exception to this is if you graduate spring semester.

If you are forced to leave the university to find employment, go into the Armed Forces, or go on a mission, the ten dollars is automatically forfeited. When I talked to Brother Parkinson about this he said, "It was necessary so that we could keep out the Negro and the white does not make up the majority of Negroes."

Winter quarter I am planning to go to the Armed Forces. We have to pay for the Lord for two or two and a half years, but according to Student Housing the only time the Lord is to call me on a mission is at the end of spring quarter or after graduation.

Like Mrs. Shirley, I am forced to ask myself "Is this MAN'S university or the LORD'S?" I would like to know.

Oh well, the school probably needs the ten dollars more than I do — especially when it's so close to Christmas.

Craig Rasmussen

Integration

Dear Editor:

I have been somewhat shocked at the sadisticity of Lila and Lureen LeVar to submit for publication such "twistings of the truth" concerning the Negro problem.

The fallacy of their statements, and this particular "states rights" principle is contrary to the fundamental principles of the U.S. Constitution. The states do not assume the function of the basic sovereign unit. Nor does the nation, the city, or the county.

Original sovereignty rests with the individual. The sovereignty of the state, consequently, is limited inasmuch as it must, only, uphold the will of the majority, but must first, uphold that which is right.

— Safety Interpretation

The faulty interpretation which the South makes of this fundamental is now obvious. That is, the will of the majority.

The same implication that they seem to have attached to them. The Negro has a place and the white has a place here on earth. It is better to be recognized by our positions. The positions are not positions of isolation.

Neither I nor the church condone inter-racial marriage with the Negro. But the church must understand that our segregation, fundamentally, applies only to the highest and most sacred of covenants: marriage and priesthood, which are inter-related.

Attended Integrated School

You must understand my place also. The high school I attended was integrated. Not only did we integrate with Negro, but with Mexicans, Indians, and Orientals, of most every economic and moral background. I am not a Negro, but I have seen problems of Negro and race problems.

As a group, negroes are no better or worse than the whites of the same economic level.

They are equal spiritually, and socially equal. They have no more or less native intelligence than the whites, nor are their hopes and aspirations any different.

Want Same Things

They want the same things for their children, economic success, education, and happiness. Nothing is gained by the racism of the color of their skin...

The color of the South and the American Negro have been the悲哀 of the nation since the time of the post-Civil War Republican Congress.

On their shoulders shoulders rests the blame. On our shoulders rests the responsibility to right the wrongs. (Editorial, (rest of letter on file)

Enough Jokes

Dear Editor:

Since I am a senior at the BYU, I have a new love. We are the member of the Blue Key Honorary Service Unit, which joined with the majority of the student body in enjoyment of the many social and community projects which have involved development of the status.

However, we feel that the memory of this great man, and the many contributions he made to our country, and I might add, most of the state of Kentucky has been integrated without any violence.

You may say-fourths of the police and supported Faubus. You forgot to mention thousands of negroes kept from the polls by fear and unfair practices.

It is time to wake up to it!

A loyal Southerner and Tennessean — CHUCK JOHNSON

P. S. My pedigree is as blue as that of the white supremist.

And it may be examined on request.

Annual Christmas Exodus.. .

Ever Ride with Fre

Partaking in the annual Christmas exodus? So was Fred who discussed the past week's final exam way home:

"How'd you do in that geology test, Fred?"
 "I was going good. Bill—until I dropped by glam broke 'em into a couple hundred pieces. Can't see without 'em you know."

"Oh, Sam, when'll we get home Fred?"
 "Well, we're home if you ever get those planes."

"Great, Hey, Fred, did you ever get those planes?"
 "Well, I was going to, but I had to take the to the service station. Tires are a little wobbly and the shant seems a little loose."

"Get 'em fixed?"
 "Well, no, not yet. I called my folks to tell 'em I was going. Seems to be all I can think about lately."

"I guess you've thought through a stop sign."
 "Guess I'm lucky. No cops around."

"And we'll be lucky to get home!" chorus from

"Who thinks they're driving this car?"
 "Passengers in the back seat, Fred."

"Well, they've got gall. Just pay your two bucks," remarks thrown in."

Last year 38,500 Americans were killed and injured in automobile accidents, according to the Safe Committee.

Worst part of it is that some 85 per cent died. Drivers were breaking traffic laws. Passengers die with them—because they let drivers like Fred get carelessly driving.

Be a passenger with an interest in your future.

Gov. Faubus

Dear Editor:

The students from Arkansas have added another discredit to their state by the actions of Governor Orval Faubus.

Let me assure the students of BYU that the sentiments expressed by these young students are not those of the deep thinking people of the South.

Integration has to come, and in answer to the Arkansas students' statement: "Leave us alone and we will work out our own salvation." I would like to add that the state of Kentucky has been integrated without any violence.

The economy of the South and the American Negro have been the悲哀 of the nation since the time of the post-Civil War Republican Congress.

On their shoulders shoulders rests the blame. On our shoulders rests the responsibility to right the wrongs. (Editorial, (rest of letter on file)

ing in the sweetness of success, Brigham Young University Cougars are preparing for the coming holiday hoop encounters with interpretation food.

First on the list for the high-riding Cats is Santa Clara Broncos, which invade Smith Fieldhouse Friday and Saturday. The Horsemen are currently riding on a 3-1 won-lost record, having gained victories over San Francisco, St. Louis, Chico State College and UCLA. Only Stanford has marred its record, as they dumped the Broncos, 35-19.

Big guns for the visiting Santa Claritas are 6'6" center Mel Prescott, 6'3" Frank (the Rocket) Sotero and 6'1" Jim (the Master) Taylor.

The following Monday, St. Mary's College, who are reported to be the best team in the championship of West Coast Athletic Conference, invades the Cougar lair.

St. Mary's has all the regulars back from last year's second place WAC team. However, three sophomores have been bunting into the lineup just far enough to give the Cougars the added drive which they lacked last year. All but one of St. Mary's starting five stand over the 6'8" mark. Little Joe Gardner, who stands at 5'10", is the only regular below the sky-scrapper level.

The holiday season will be rounded out Dec. 27, 29 as the Brigham travel to Buffalo, N. Y., for the Queens City Invitational.

The Cougars showed the basketball world Monday night that they weren't afraid of height as they defeated the (then) number two team in the country, Kansas State, like a Paul Bunyan hay-day in the North Woods.

QUESTION: What do you want for Christmas.

Bill Thomson, freshman: A new pair of skis; a trip to Menlo Park, California to see a girl residing in Shipp Hall; two new front teeth for my poor dad.

Tasmin Kirk, junior: Bread, love and cha cha cha!

Thomson Kirk

Myra Lunt, junior: I want Santa to take me home.

Harvey Thompson, freshman: Pogo hook, one gold crown and 2 pair of socks, and one coal black charger.

Lunt Thompson

Jerald Jones, freshman: Good looks instead of money.

Lynne Glassford, freshman: A Mercedes 300-sl racing car.

Jones Glassford

Gaye Record, freshman: A car v.v.

Alan K. Lunt, junior: A sweet patootie! What else?
